Dear Dr. Earl,

It is with great pleasure that I write in support of Dr. Earl Suttle. Several institutions including the University of Miami and Indiana University strongly recommended Dr. Earl as an individual who could conduct an interactive educational program on alcohol and other drugs. Dr. Earl performed a presentation for our student-athletes on November 3rd, 2010. The presentation was exceptional! Dr. Earl captured the attention of our student-athletes for the duration of his high-energy presentation, which is no easy task. The group format that Dr. Earl utilized allowed for an interactive educational experience. My staff and I received nothing but positive feedback from our student-athletes.

When my search for a presenter brought me to Dr. Earl Suttle, there was no need to look any further. Dr. Earl's alcohol and other drug program was exactly what I was looking for. His interactive educational program included knowledge about the stages leading to alcohol and drug addiction, learning to identify signs of alcohol abuse and discussion on how to intervene with an athlete who has a drug or alcohol problem. The student-athletes learned how alcohol and drug abuse affects athletic performance and also created strategies to reduce alcohol and drug abuse on their team.

I am pleased to be a reference for Dr. Earl and I am willing to have my name and contact information displayed on the NCAA Educational Affairs Grant Registry website. I highly recommend Dr. Earl Suttle and feel that he would be an excellent addition to the registry.

Sincerely,
